Huntington Woods

The Location

Huntington Woods is located in the Village of Cochran's Crossing in the heart of the 25,000 peaceful acres of The Woodlands. Yet for all its privacy, this elegant community is in a remarkably convenient location. A new road will soon bring northwest Houston within easy commuting distance of your front door. The second country club in The Woodlands will be within walking distance. And you're only minutes away from shopping, schools, tennis courts and churches — all in The Woodlands.

The Concept

Each home is designed around a spacious side yard and has an expanse of glass overlooking your own private forest and garden — making them an inseparable part of your interior decor. Thoughtfully designed floor plans and adjoining brick walls assure the ultimate in privacy for entertaining, enjoying your swimming pool or hot tub. . . your own magic moments at home.

The Homes

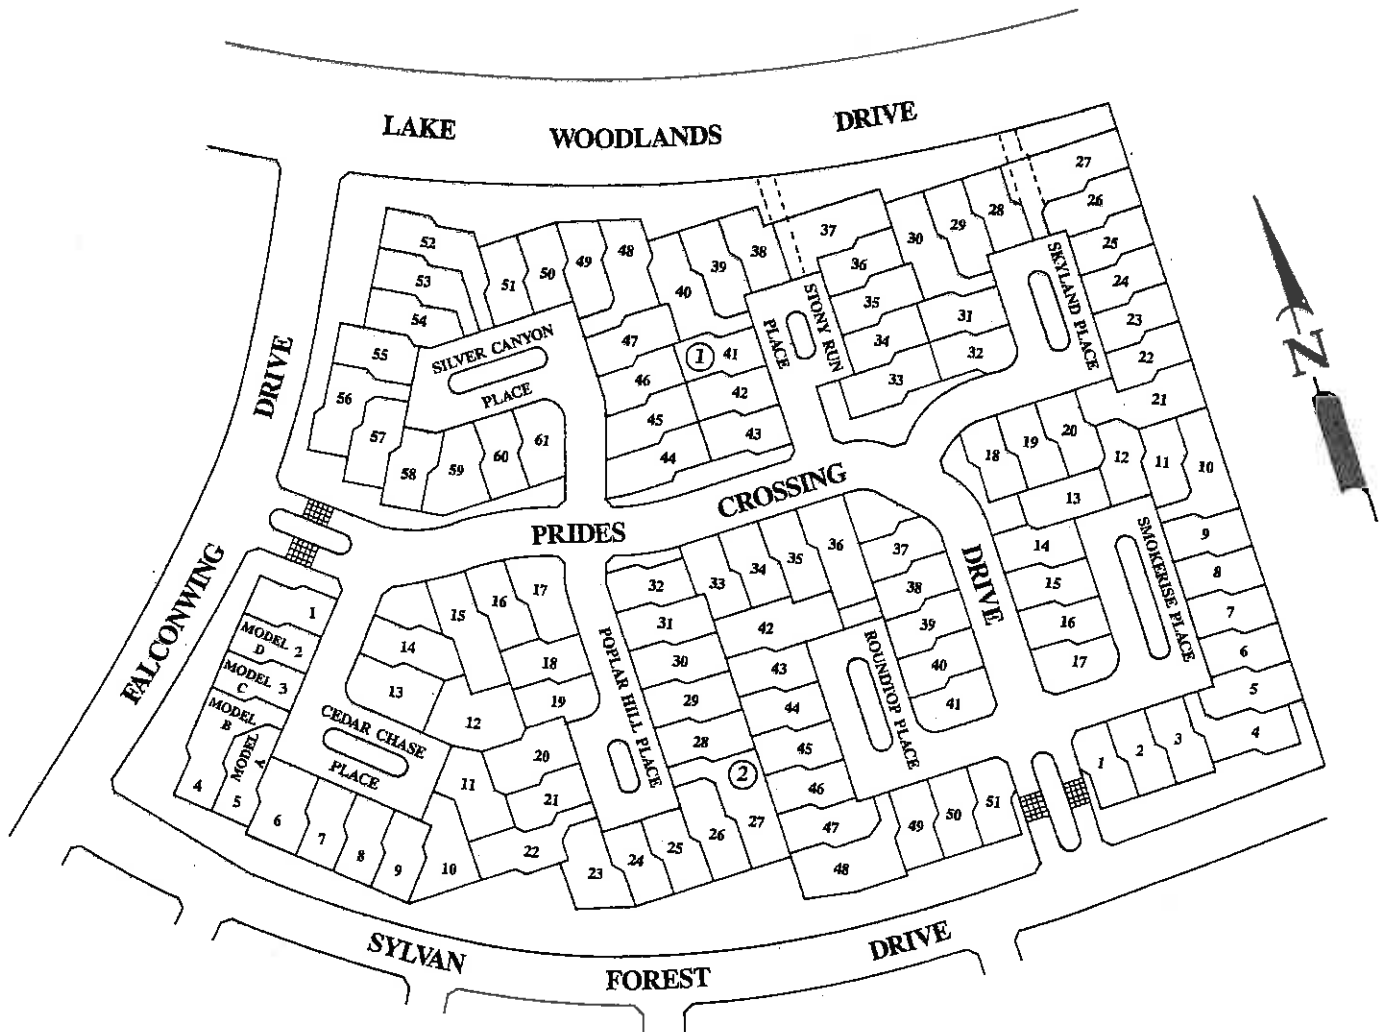

Contemporary styling with cathedral ceilings and glass window walls and skylights create a feeling of bright, cheerful spaciousness. Yet, there are delightful and unexpected nostalgic touches in the design. And a complete menu of creature comforts, from splendid master bedroom suites to soaking tubs and separate showers.

The Streetscape

The homes, linked by brick colonnades, meander around forested islands along winding cul-de-sacs. Look out your front door and you see beautiful trees rather than the driveways of your neighbors'. There's a feeling of tranquility, privacy and security.
