

Information About Brokerage Services

Texas law requires all real estate license holders to give the following information about brokerage services to prospective buyers, tenants, sellers and landlords.

TYPES OF REAL ESTATE LICENSE HOLDERS:

- A BROKER is responsible for all brokerage activities, including acts performed by sales agents sponsored by the broker.
- A SALES AGENT must be sponsored by a broker and works with clients on behalf of the broker.

A BROKER'S MINIMUM DUTIES REQUIRED BY LAW (A client is the person or party that the broker represents):

- Put the interests of the client above all others, including the broker's own interests;
- Inform the client of any material information about the property or transaction received by the broker;
- Answer the client's questions and present any offer to or counter-offer from the client; and
- Treat all parties to a real estate transaction honestly and fairly.

A LICENSE HOLDER CAN REPRESENT A PARTY IN A REAL ESTATE TRANSACTION:

AS AGENT FOR OWNER (SELLER/LANDLORD): The broker becomes the property owner's agent through an agreement with the owner, usually in a written listing to sell or property management agreement. An owner's agent must perform the broker's minimum duties above and must inform the owner of any material information about the property or transaction known by the agent, including information disclosed to the agent or subagent by the buyer or buyer's agent.

AS AGENT FOR BUYER/TENANT: The broker becomes the buyer/tenant's agent by agreeing to represent the buyer, usually through a written representation agreement. A buyer's agent must perform the broker's minimum duties above and must inform the buyer of any material information about the property or transaction known by the agent, including information disclosed to the agent by the seller or seller's agent.

AS AGENT FOR BOTH - INTERMEDIARY: To act as an intermediary between the parties the broker must first obtain the written agreement of each party to the transaction. The written agreement must state who will pay the broker and, in conspicuous bold or underlined print, set forth the broker's obligations as an intermediary. A broker who acts as an intermediary:

- Must treat all parties to the transaction impartially and fairly;
- May, with the parties' written consent, appoint a different license holder associated with the broker to each party (owner and buyer) to communicate with, provide opinions and advice to, and carry out the instructions of each party to the transaction.
- Must not, unless specifically authorized in writing to do so by the party, disclose:
 - that the owner will accept a price less than the written asking price;
 - that the buyer/tenant will pay a price greater than the price submitted in a written offer; and
 - any confidential information or any other information that a party specifically instructs the broker in writing not to disclose, unless required to do so by law.

AS SUBAGENT: A license holder acts as a subagent when aiding a buyer in a transaction without an agreement to represent the buyer. A subagent can assist the buyer but does not represent the buyer and must place the interests of the owner first.

TO AVOID DISPUTES, ALL AGREEMENTS BETWEEN YOU AND A BROKER SHOULD BE IN WRITING AND CLEARLY ESTABLISH:

- The broker's duties and responsibilities to you, and your obligations under the representation agreement.
- Who will pay the broker for services provided to you, when payment will be made and how the payment will be calculated.

LICENSE HOLDER CONTACT INFORMATION: This notice is being provided for information purposes. It does not create an obligation for you to use the broker's services. Please acknowledge receipt of this notice below and retain a copy for your records.

Property Address

The Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform passed in 2010 created the Consumer Protection Act. Please review this information at www.consumerfinance.gov

As of October 3, 2015, the new rule and new forms apply to all closed-end consumer credit transactions secured by real property. Any real property financed by a mortgage lender, now known as a Creditor, will be subject to new disclosures and a three-day waiting period after the Closing Disclosure and the Loan estimate have been delivered to the Consumer. There will be no exceptions made regarding the three-day waiting period.

Below is an example of some of the new terminology that will be used as it relates to the loan process.

- Lender - Creditor
- Borrower - Consumer
- Truth in Lending and Good Faith Estimate are now the Loan Estimate
- HUD1 and Final Truth in Lending is now The Closing Disclosure
- Closing is now Consummation

This change could have an impact in the timely performance by all parties in the transaction. One of the considerations could be the timeliness of completing any and all agreed upon repairs or treatments. Per the contract, the Seller is obligated to provide paid receipts proving the completion of the work. The paid receipts of all completed work will probably need to be provided within 15 days of closing. This is a recommendation that has been advised to Keller Williams Realty from various Creditors so that Sellers are not the cause of the delay for closing.

The process will include the following:

- 1.) Once the Creditor has final approval the Creditor will provide closing instructions to the title company along with preliminary Closing Disclosure and a Final Loan Estimate. This approval of the final Closing Disclosure and Loan Estimate includes fees associated with, but not limited to, the Consumer, Creditor, Title Company, Real Estate Brokerage, Pest Inspector, Attorney, Appraiser, Survey Company, Insurance Company, Taxing Authority, Mortgage Insurance Company, and Inspection Company.
- 2.) Once the Closing Disclosure and Final Loan Estimate are approved, they must be delivered to the Consumer. The day of disclosure counts as one of the three days in the waiting period. Three days after the disclosure is delivered to the Consumer, closing/consummation can occur.
- 3.) If for any reason, the Closing Disclosure or the Final Loan Estimate changes, the waiting period will start over and will delay the Closing/Consummation Date. The Buyer may request to extend the closing due to the mandated required three day waiting period that must be done again.

I have read and acknowledge this information.
