

Composting Toilets

When I first heard of composting toilets, I thought 'no way'. Then I did my research and said 'maybe'. Finally, I found another site that made me feel pretty comfortable with the idea.

I won't try to convince you on my own. Here are the relevant web sites, and I hope you are more open to the idea after looking at them.

The toilet installed is a Nature's Head. Their web site is:

www.natureshead.net

For a really fun endorsement read:

www.gonewiththewynns.com/composting-toilet

And for more information and instructions see:

www.gonewiththewynns.com/all-composting-toilet

Furnishings

The landlord is prepared to supply the following items if a renter needs them:

1. A mattress - either single, double, or queen
2. One cushion chair for the living area
3. One barstool for the table
4. Some dishes for the kitchen
5. Some sheets and towels