

Why I Love My Home?

Welcome to my Home of 8 years and I hope you enjoy touring my special place. This house has provided an amazing outlet for celebrating milestones, neighborhood gatherings, nephew slumber parties, game night and bible studies.

The spacious backyard allows for a creative outlet to work outside on the patio, enjoy meals with friends and family and therapy time in the backyard over a book or play time with my precious fur child Harper. I love this neighborhood as it is truly a community and this street has a life line (text thread) where we all support and help one another whether it is a needed spice for a recipe, a piece of luggage for a trip or picking up mail while someone is traveling. I have truly appreciated having a family feel on our street and watching all the children grow and new seasons of life.

I hope the new owners love this home and street as much I have and make sweet memories of their own.
