

Dear future homeowner(s) of 3929 Floyd,

I am the listing agent and wife of the seller. I do not have any ownership in the home as the purchase was made before we were together.

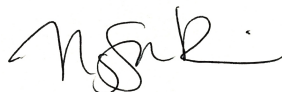

My husband purchased 3929 Floyd when he relocated to Houston to be closer to aging parents. It was a great bachelor pad because of its proximity to night life and restaurants. He's in commercial construction and travels to different job sites, so he loved the home's accessibility to various freeways.

Years later we dated and I moved in. I loved living in this home. We spent the majority of our time in the living room and enjoyed the abundance of natural light. We drank beverages on the balcony and walked to see Fourth of July fireworks every year. The thing I miss most is our ability to walk to Buffalo Bayou Park and eat at the Dunlavy.

Why did we move? When COVID hit, we both worked from home and he started a home gym. The gym is why we needed more space. 3929 Floyd is a great home! My husband spent eight years here. This is where our relationship bloomed, where we got engaged, and where we lived as newlyweds. With my husband's background as an architectural engineer, he took great care of home.

I hope this house brings as much love and growth to your life as it did ours.

Best Wishes,
