EXCLUSIONS LIST

EXHIBIT A

If something is bolted in, screwed in, cemented in, or permanently affixed to the home, it remains with the home when it sells unless the seller excludes that item on the contract. However, if something is excluded on the contract by the seller, whether it is affixed to the home or not, the seller has the right to take it with them. Please list the items you might want to exclude from the sale of your property. It is important that you be specific.
