

If you like to workout or work on projects in your garage, there is a mini split AC to keep you cool. If the area should lose power, you will be able to keep power going in this house with the installed transfer switch and generator.**

