

Dear Prospective Homeowner,

Thank you for touring our home. 8730 Backcove Court was our first home that we purchased as a newly married couple. We have celebrated many firsts in this home. We brought our first-born child home to this house, we have celebrated first Christmases, first birthdays, new jobs, and many more memories. We will look back on our years in the house and the fond memories that we made here. This is a bittersweet close to this chapter in our life and we can only hope that the home will bring such sweet memories to the future buyers.

We have enjoyed making this house a home that maximized space for our family and provided an inviting environment. I hope you will be able to enjoy the well-rounded kitchen as much as we did as well as the many other attributing characteristics of the home. The backyard made a great space to host cookouts and swimming parties during the summer. It also provided an atmosphere during the Fall and Winter to enjoy those beautiful nights under the stars. The neighborhood provides an amazing playground and two very well sized dog parks. We took advantage of these perks of the neighborhood as often as we could.

We have loved and enjoyed this home and neighborhood and will miss the community where we have built relationships. From our family to yours we hope you will love it too!

Best Regards,

The Aschenbeck Family
