Re: Manufactured Home Ancillary Structure Certification

The above property has been inspected and found to comply with the following:

- There is no visual indication that this manufactured home has been previously installed or occupied at another site or location.
- Additions and modifications, including porches and decks, have been inspected and do not impact the structural integrity of the property.
- The additions do not take the home out of compliance with the HUD Manufactured Home Construction Safety Standards.

As this certification is for existing foundations, depth of footings and piers have not been physically verified. This certification is valid for this loan only and may not be valid for future loans.

This certification is the property of Hayman Engineering. It is issued to the listed owner for the purpose of a specific loan approval. It may not be transferred to another owner without written permission from Hayman Engineering.

Sincerely,
